MURDER IN FIRST

Such is Charge Against George Rosa.

(From Wednesday's daily.)

THE CORONER'S jury at the inquest held last night on the body of Joe Rosa, returned the following verdict:

That the said Joc Rosa came to his death in Honolulu, Island of Oahu, on the 13th day of January, A. D. 1992, as the result of an injury to the skull, causing the formation of a blood clot and consequent pressure on the brain, said injury, so this toy beloves being the result of jury believes, being the result of a blow from some sharp-pointed instrument in the hands of a person to this jury unknown.

The witness stated that about II p. m. on Sunday George Rosa came to his house and asked him to come and see responded and found deceased in bed. He noticed blood spots on the mosquito net, sheet and pillow case. Joe Rosa was on different parts of the body. Witness administered an injection of strychnine and then returned home.

He noticed that George Rosa's face was scratched and asked him how it had come about. He was told that he had received the scratch in a struggle with his brother Joe, who had tried to kill er.-Pittsburg Post his wife. Early the next morning George came to his house and said that his brother was dead, and asked for a death certificate. Witness said that he must first report the case to the president of the Board of Health. He did so, and later on dissued the certificate.

Next mo ning about 7 o'clock she returned to the house and found George with his face scratched sitting on the steps. Joe was lying on a bed with his left temple covered with blood. In one of the rooms she found, lying on the floor, a putty knife and compass which were usually kept in a canvas bag in another room. Fearing that her husband might be seized with a fit of violence and do some hurt with the articles, she took them and secreted them in the yard. When she returned to the house she called to Joe and he asked for a little wine, which he drank. After a while he want-ed more, but his wife refused to give it to him. Then he went to sleep. About 11:30 p. m. Sunday he frothed a little at the mouth and Dr. Alvarez was sent for. He injected some medicine and early on Monday morning her husband died. She sald that George had said nothing to her about the matter. She had heard George ask some of the family on Sunday how he had got the scratch on his face. George was not jealous of Joe, but Joe got mad at him at times and when drunk they often quarreled. Witness said that her husband drank and would not go to work and that George heiped the family

As a result of the ruling of President Brown that the proxies of Col.
